

How to use the Spark app

A short guide to finding what you're curious about. Takes about 30 minutes the first time — and you can come back to it whenever you want.

The app shows you 55 areas of interest. You'll rate each one, see your top picks, and then turn one into something you can actually do this week. There are no right answers. Move fast — your first instinct is usually right.

The rating buttons

USED THROUGH EVERY AREA

Each area has four buttons. Pick one:

× No thanks

~ Maybe

★ Interested

★★ Most interested

Rules:

- You can only pick 3 as ★ and 3 as ★★.
- Once you fill all 3, the buttons lock until you free a slot.
- Tap the same button again to un-pick it.
- No limit on × or ~.

TIP The bar at the top of the app shows how many slots you've used. Watch it.

The survey

ABOUT 12 MINUTES

1. Rate every one of the 55 areas. Don't skip — even a ✖ is useful.
2. Trust your gut. Stuck? It's probably a ~.
3. The progress bar shows how far through you are.

TIP You can change your mind any time before you click "See my passion profile".

Ignite

5 MINUTES · TAP PHASE 4 BUTTON

This is the most important 5 minutes. Don't skip.

1. Name your spark. Write one sentence: "I think I'm curious about ____ because ____." Be specific. Not "science" — say what about science.
2. Choose one tiny action. Watch / Ask / Make / Read. Just one. Fifteen minutes max. You'll do it in the next 48 hours.
3. Say it out loud. Even just to yourself, or to someone you trust. Hearing yourself say it makes you far more likely to follow through.
4. Come back later. Once you've done your action, notice what happened — did the feeling hold up, get bigger, or change completely? All three answers are useful.

Then tap "Generate my commitment card" — copy it or save as a PDF.

A feeling that doesn't become an action fades within days. This step is where you turn the feeling into something you'll actually do.

Tap "Phase 5 — What's next?" to see places to go further.

- Eight category buttons, one per area of interest.
- Categories where you starred sparks are tinted in their colour with a small badge like "★★ 1 · ★ 2" — so you know at a glance which ones matter to you.
- You can still tap any category, even ones you didn't star.

Inside each category:

- Competitions you can enter
- Free resources to explore
- University-level resources for when you're ready to go deeper

Use your spark in class

SELF-PACED · TAP PHASE 6 BUTTON

Tap "Phase 6 — Use your spark →". This is for when you're sitting in another lesson — English, Maths, History — and you want to make it more interesting.

How it works:

1. Pick a spark — your sparks are at the top, colour-coded by category.
2. Pick the subject you're in — English, Maths, Science, etc.
3. You'll see two columns:
 - Left — five "moves" your spark teaches you to make
 - Right — four "hooks" where each subject lets you plug your spark in
4. Pick one from each side. That's your hint for the lesson.

Want more options? Tap "+ Browse more sparks" to see every other area you haven't ruled out, grouped by category.

Your spark isn't just a topic — it's a way of thinking that travels into every subject.

Will my answers be saved?

AUTO-SAVE

The app remembers your answers automatically on the iPad you used. Close the tab and come back later — your ratings will be there. You'll see a small message at the bottom: "Restored your previous answers."

IMPORTANT It only works on the same iPad, in the same browser (usually Safari). A different iPad won't see your answers. If you clear Safari history, your answers are gone. Save a PDF of your results — it's the safest way to keep them.

Tap "Start over" at the bottom of the survey to wipe everything and start fresh.

If something isn't working

QUICK FIXES

- Buttons not working? Make sure you opened the link in Safari, not inside a Schoology or Classroom file viewer. The URL should look like `username.github.io/...`.
- Page looks weird? Pull down to refresh.
- Lost your work? If auto-save didn't catch it, you'll need to rate again. Saving as PDF after the survey is your insurance.

ONE MORE THING

Finding out you don't care about something is just as valuable as finding out you do. The point isn't to lock you into a passion — it's to help you notice what you're actually drawn to right now. Have fun.
